Permission Form for Use of Student Creative Work

U.S. Copyright provides copyright protection for any work by an author (artist or performer), including student authors.

Students own the copyright to their projects, papers, notes and creative work.

Any faculty member who would like to post a student’s paper or project -- in electronic or physical form -- must secure written permission for the student author prior to making the work available.

For student works with joint authors, the permission of all the students is required. Students under the age of 18 must have the form signed by their parent or guardian.

Instructions to Student: Carefully read the information below. If you have questions about the intended use of the student information or student creative work, please ask the faculty member before signing. Your decision to grant or to deny permission will not have any impact on your grade in the related course/service program.
